

TERMS AND CONDITIONS for 2022 Contest

(Revised 8/19/2021)

By clicking the "Submit" button on our Submit page and submitting your entry to the “Blueprint a Healthy Lifespan for Earth and Mars”, you hereby grant the National Space Society (NSS), SpacEdge Education, Mars-Moon Astronautics Academy & Research Science, Inc. (MMAARS) and NSS Chapters a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty free, perpetual license to:

- Reproduce said entry and associated textual description (in whole or in part) in print, electronic, and other media to promote the goals of the NSS, MMAARS and the SpacEdge Education program.
- Modify and/or crop for sizing, transmission, or distribution of your submission without prior or additional consent.
- Use the entrant's name, likeness and biographical information in connection with the entry being submitted.

You also agree that without prior or additional consent:

- Winning and submitted images, graphics, and text may appear in NSS, MMAARS, or SpacEdge publications or promotional items.
- Submitted images, graphics, and text may be displayed on the NSS/MMAARS/SpacEdge web sites and other social media venues.
- Submitted images, graphics, and text may be used elsewhere in association with reporting of the NSS, MMAARS, SpacEdge Education program or publicity for or about the NSS, MMAARS, or SpacEdge Education program.
- SpacEdge may also use the submitted entries in other promotional and advertising material in support of its non-profit objective of creating a space-faring civilization. Such use includes the NSS and SpacEdge websites, the NSS magazine Ad Astra, and possible brochures and other promotional materials.
- The NSS's SpacEdge Education program stipulates that SpacEdge Education retains copyright.

You also agree that:

The “Blueprint A Healthy Lifespan for Earth and Mars” team reserves the right to reject any submission without showing cause. Prizes will only be awarded at the First and Second levels if qualified entries are judged as meeting the standards for submissions and artwork of that award level. Half of the prize money will be awarded upon completion of the awardees’ presentations of their papers at the NSS public on-line webinar to be scheduled by mid-2022. The remaining half will be awarded upon completion of the awardee’s analog mission. It may be that the quality of submission received in any given year does not meet Judging Guidelines for a particular award level and as such, no prize in that category would be awarded that year. If a co-sponsor offers a prize in the contest, the NSS, MMAARS, and SpacEdge Education will not be held liable if that co-sponsor fails to deliver that prize.

Future publication of any NSS, MMAARS, or SpacEdge materials is uncertain. NSS, MMAARS and SpacEdge will not be held liable if such publication does not occur.

SpacEdge Education reserves the right to extend the contest submission deadline.

This Agreement may not be amended except by written agreement between the parties.

Further, you also warrant that:

The entry being submitted is the original work, art, and text created in whole and part by you and does not violate any copyrights.

The entry being submitted is not subject to any third party intellectual property rights.

I agree to the above entry TERMS and CONDITIONS
